2022-2023

TEMPORARY REMOTE LEARNING CONDITIONS

IRCC has changed its regulations governing study permit requirements: students who have applied online for a study permit and are waiting for a decision from IRCC are authorized to start their remote delivery program from outside Canada without having received a study permit approval. After you apply for your study permit, either 100% or 50% of the time spent studying online from outside Canada depending on the length of your academic program will count toward the length of a Post Graduation Work Permit (“PGWP”). You will not have time deducted from the length of your PGWP for studies you complete outside Canada until August 31, 2023. For greater certainty, refer to the scenarios below:

- International students whose PGWP-eligible programs of study were ongoing in March 2020 or started between March 2020 and August 31, 2022, or for whom IRCC received an application before August 31, 2022 may complete 100% of their program of study online and remain eligible for a PGWP, and academic terms completed outside of Canada prior to August 31, 2023 will not be deducted from the length of their PGWP. Academic terms beginning September 1, 2023 or later outside of Canada will be deducted from the length of their PGWP.

- International students with PGWP-eligible programs of study that will begin between September 1, 2022 and August 31, 2023, or from whom IRCC receives a study permit application before August 31, 2023, will have to complete at least 50% of their program of study in-Canada to be eligible for a PGWP, and academic terms done outside of Canada until August 31, 2023 will not be deducted from the length of their PWGP as long as they account for less than 50% of their program of study.

For the full scope of the IRCC PGWP policy and what scenarios might apply you to you, we advise you visit IRCC’s website directly.

Students registering in a remote program with Cambrian without an IRCC Study Permit decision, it is understood that:

☐ YOU ARE ACCEPTED TO CAMBRIAN COLLEGE (“CAMBRIAN”) IN A PROGRAM OF STUDY THAT WILL BE DELIVERED REMOTELY FOR THE TERM;

☐ YOU APPLIED ONLINE FOR A STUDY PERMIT FROM IMMIGRATION, REFUGEES AND CITIZENSHIP CANADA (“IRCC”) prior to the start of class; AND YOU ARE WAITING FOR FULL APPROVAL FOR A STUDY PERMIT FROM IRCC.

☐ If a Study Permit application is rejected on or before the last day of the term, you may be withdrawn from the program and will be eligible for a refund of that current term fees and any upcoming term fees, less the administration fee in the amount of $600.00. This exceptional refund process will be in place for new international students registered to the current term, who are admitted into programs that are delivered remotely without a study permit approval. Exceptional refunds will be granted only due to study permit rejection. To be eligible, students must submit the Study Permit rejection letter within 10 business days of receiving it AND on or before the last day of class.
☐ You must have access to the technology and internet connectivity that is necessary to successfully participate in a remote delivery program. Please refer to our Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) policy and the technical specification for each program by clicking on the following website: https://cambriancollege.ca/byod/

☐ You understand that your program will have some synchronous learning activities (delivered in real time from Sudbury, Canada) and will be expected to attend these activities at the time they are scheduled, regardless of time differences. Failure to do so may impact final grades.

☐ You must notify Cambrian College in writing before Day 10 (please see the academic schedule for specific dates) if you are withdrawing or deferring from my program for any other reason than study permit rejection and that Cambrian’s Refund Policy will apply.

☐ You understand that withdrawal or deferral after Day 10 (please see the academic schedule for specific dates) for any reason other than study permit rejection will result in no refund of the tuition and ancillary fees that have been paid to Cambrian College for your enrollment in the term, and you will remain liable for any outstanding fees that remain due for the registered term.

☐ For any refund request that falls outside of the aforementioned conditions, students are required to complete the Request for Review of Tuition Fees and submit all supplemental documents.